Conference "Outrage - Enthusiasm - Hope. European revolutions and contemporary protest movements".

🔊 Listen

11th - 12th December 2018

We would like to invite you to the conference "Outrage - Enthusiasm - Hope. European Revolutions and Contemporary Protest Movements". The conference is part of the research project "Normative Dimensions of Outrage" by Prof. Dr. Anne Reichold, in cooperation with Prof. Dr. Hauke Brunkhorst and the Interdisciplinary Centre for European Studies (ICES).

Lectures:

René Gabriels (Maastricht University): Resistance and the Political Economy of Emotions. On the fight against poverty

Gunnar Hindrichs (University of Basel): Revolution without indignation

Regina Kreide (Justus-Liebig-Universität Gießen): Global (In-)Justice? Flight, migration and border regimes

Tilo Wesche (Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg): Hoping as a Category of Social Theory

Eva von Redecker (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin): Enclosed Enthusiasm. Property Form and Revolutionary Eventuality

Jule Govrin (Europa-Universität Flensburg): Judith Butler's Ethics of Vulnerability with Regard to Current Affect Policies

Thomas Meyer (Ludwig-Maximilians-University Munich): "Order, unite and gather!" The "Conservative Revolutions" in the Weimar Republic

Prof. Dr. Anne Reichold (European University Flensburg): Outrage or resentment? On the justification of reactive attitudes

Dr. Carina Pape (European University Flensburg): Outrage and Civil Disobedience

Prof. Dr. Hauke Brunkhorst (European University Flensburg): The Truth of the Revolution (1789-1814)

Please register by sending an e-mail to carina.pape@uni-flensburg.de. We look forward to your participation.
