

Start > Services > Promoting young talents

- › Research Funding
- › Networking
- › Promoting young talents
- › Journal Access

Promoting young talents

Your ICES Contact Person

▶▶ Listen

ICES aims to support young and early-stage academics at EUF working in the field of European Studies.

We provide individualized advice and help find sources of financial support that fit the specific needs of each researcher, whether the goal be to start a doctoral project, develop a research idea, or participate in a qualification program or conference. If a suitable funding source is found, we support students, doctoral students and post-doctoral students in an advisory capacity and assist them during the application phase. Young and early-stage researchers can also contact us to find suitable partners and contacts at EUF. In addition to individual counseling, we seek to strengthen competences and improve the international and interdisciplinary networking of young and early-stage researchers through advanced training, workshops and conferences.

Together with the Centre for Continuing Education in Science (ZWW), the Centre for Education, Teaching, School and Socialisation Research (ZeBUSS) and the Research Unit, ICES offers a qualification programme for doctoral students* and post-docs: www.uni-flensburg.de/zww/weiterbildung/qualifikationsprogramm-fuer-doktoranden-und-postdocs/

Back to top Page # 24566 Permalink 11/15/2019