Phase 1: Summer School

The ProRef Program begins with the Summer School on June 29, 2020. During this first phase, the participants have the opportunity to refresh their language skills in German at level B1+ or B2 and English at B1+. In addition, introductory courses consisting of four key skills (methodological competence, self and social competence, cultural competence, media and IT competence) are held.

Phase 2: Fall Semester

The fall semester starts in mid-September with four-month language courses in German at level B2 or C1 and English at B2. There will also be advanced courses from the four key skill modules and a mid-term exam.

Phase 3: Winter School

The Winter School starts in January with two-month German courses at level B2+ or C1+ and an English course at level B2+. Further courses from the four key skills modules will be continued.

The courses of phases 2 and 3 provide a qualification for all German, English or bilingual courses at the EUF, but also for courses at other universities.

Phase 4: Spring Semester

In addition to the four-month German language courses at level C1 or C2 and the English language course at level C1, there are further courses from the four key skill modules. The spring semester completes the ProRef Program with a final exam.
