Academic Profile

Uwe Puetter holds the Professorship for Empirical Research on Europe (Empirische Europaforschung) at Europa-Universität Flensburg (EUF). Prior to this he was Professor of European Public Policy and Governance at the Central European University (CEU) in Budapest, where he had taught since 2004. He also teaches at the College of Europe in Bruges. Uwe Puetter's research and teaching focuses on European Union (EU) politics and policy-making. He is a leading expert on the European Council and the Council and EU institutional change. His most recent research focuses on contemporary challenges to European integration. Among his most recent publications are "The European Union in disequilibrium: new intergovernmentalism".

postfunctionalism and integration theory in the post-Maastricht period' (with Dermot Hodson) and 'The European Stability Mechanism and domestic preference formation during the Eurocrisis: The role of non-governmental actors' (with Jakov Bojovic and Mario Munta).

Professor Puetter's research articles 'Europe's deliberative intergovernmentalism: the role of the Council and the European Council in EU economic governance' and 'The new intergovernmentalism: European integration in the post-Maastricht era' have been repeatedly on the TOP 10 lists of the most read articles of the Journal of European Public Policy and the Journal of Common Market Studies (JCMS) respectively. The JCMS article and the book 'The new intergovernmentalism: states, supranational actors, and European politics in the post-Maastricht era' (Oxford University Press 2015) are written with Chris Bickerton and Dermot Hodson. They propose a novel theoretical framework for the analysis of contemporary EU integration and its contestations. Uwe Puetter is author of the books 'The European Council and the Council. New intergovernmentalism and institutional change' (Oxford University Press 2014), 'The Eurogroup. How a secretive circle of finance ministers shape European economic governance' (Manchester University Press 2006) and 'Die Wirtschafts- und Sozialpolitik der EU' (The economic and social policy of the EU, UTB 2008).

Together with Sergio Fabbrini Uwe Puetter is the co-editor of the special issue 'Integration without supranationalisation: the central role of the European Council in post-Lisbon EU politics', published by the Journal of European Integration in July 2016. The special issue discusses the centrality of the European Council and the Council in EU decision-making and features a set of case studies on different policy areas and inter-institutional relations with the European Commission and the European Parliament.

Uwe Puetter was a member of the Horizon 2020 project 'EMU Choices' which surveyed decision-making in European Union member states during the euro crisis. He also participated in the European Commission funded FP7 project 'bEUcitizen' and led the research themes 'Market constraints and political choice' and 'Democratic parliamentary control in times of crisis' and was a co-coordinator of the project's work package on 'Forward looking activities'.

He served on the Executive Board of the FP7 research consortium 'bEUcitizen' and was a member of the Committee of the 'University Association for Contemporary European Studies' (UACES) as well as a fellow speaker of the 'Sprecher/innen'-team of the 'Arbeitskreis Integrationsforschung' of the 'Deutsche Vereinigung für Politikwissenschaft' (AKI-DVPW) - the working group on European integration research of the German Association for Political Science. Uwe Puetter was appointed as a member and later vice chair of the European Research Council Advanced Grant evaluation panel 'SH2: Institutions, Values, Beliefs and Behaviour' in 2011, 2013, 2015 and 2017.

A trained political scientist, Uwe Puetter received his PhD from Queen's University Belfast, Northern Ireland/UK. He carried out the first comprehensive institutional analysis of the so-called Eurogroup - the informal circle of finance ministers coordinating the economic policies of the euro area countries. For his research on the Eurogroup Uwe Puetter has received the 'Lord Bryce Prize for Best Dissertation in International Relations/ Comparative Studies in 2003-2004' awarded by the Political Studies Association in the United Kingdom, and the 'Ernst B. Haas Prize' sponsored by the European Politics and Society Section of the American Political Studies Association.
