AND MOTIVATION We investigate if income and financial literacy are related because we want to find out if income is an influencing factor on financial literacy. Since literature already reveals [...] resources have a broader exposure to financial products. We base our hypothesis that available money has an influence on financial literacy on findings in literature where students who are seniors [...] within the groups (all students, males and females) are marked in Table 1 in columns two, four and six with two stars. Overall, we find that there are more students with a lower income compared
