advance Course Selection

» Listen

the Procedure

The course selection for students with special life circumstances will be available from the 20th of August.

advance Course Selection

Students with special life circumstances may register for lectures prematurely. This procedure works against the disadvantage of students, who study with multiple responsibilities or a handicap and are therefore timely limited. The application for "prematurely course selection" needs to be filed either in writing or personally, including all required documents in the working area of equal opportunities (see contact details).

Submitted evidences will be destroyed after examination, therefore do not attach original documents.

Please read carefully the following instructions and examples to ensure a prompt handling of your application without any delay.
