

MEET

Connie Hedegaard

Former European Commissioner for Climate Action and former Minister for the Environment in Denmark. Chair for KR Foundation, Chair for OECD's Round Table for Sustainability.
"It is an established fact that the climate and environment are seriously challenged. There is a pressing need to change the current understanding of how we measure and value growth and of how we as humans relate to our limited natural resources".

Jørgen Mads Clausen

Chairman of global group Danfoss A/S which produces and sells an extensive range of products and solutions that address the increasing global need for food safety, modern infrastructure, efficient energy consumption, and the combating of climate change.

Dr. Hans-Joachim Ziesing

Senior Policy Advisor, Ecologic Institute Berlin
He served on several advisory boards, among others chairman of the Berlin "Climate Protection Advisory Board" (Klimaschutzrat). From 2005 to 2011 Delegate of the Consultative Commission on Industrial Change (CCMI), a body within the European Economic and Social Committee (EESC).
Currently he is member of an independent four-member Expert Commission set up by the German Government to support the monitoring process "Energy for the Future".
