Qualification objective	Students learn to identify research gaps and to find their own research question. In order to do so we discuss and evaluate current and relevant research contributions in the context of entrepreneurship. The students are invited to find their own research topic and work on that in groups. It is also possible to cooperate with partners from practice. Students train their research competencies by learning to structure their research.
Expertise	Perspectives of entrepreneurship research, methods of entrepreneurship research to create rigor and relevance
Methodological competence	Research methods within entrepreneurship, exploration and focus on qualitative research methods
Social and personal skills	Students are able to reflect their own entrepreneurial aspirations against the background of academic literature on entrepreneurship. Also, they will be able to look for intraorganizational potential for entrepreneurial activity.
Course and study formats	Action oriented. Exercises for self-reflection.
