Europa-Universität Flensburg is a vibrant and dynamic university in which interdisciplinary teamwork plays a prominent role. We work, teach and research for more justice, sustainability and diversity in educational processes and systems, economy and society, culture and environment. EUF offers a cosmopolitan working environment that promotes intercultural understanding and international engagement.

The International Institute for Management and Economic Education (Institut für Management und ökonomische Bildung) at Europa-Universität Flensburg seeks to fill the following position by March 1, 2021:

Junior Professorship for Plural Economics (W1) with Tenure Track (W3)

The ideal candidate will be critically engaged with the current paradigms of mainstream economics and its models and methods, and whose research shows a deep interest in political, legal-institutional as well as socio-cultural factors. She or he should also have demonstrable empirical research experience in at least one of the following areas: poverty, inequality, European economic, financial and monetary policy, growth problems, sustainability, economic and social transformation, labor and technological change.

This professorship is responsible for teaching courses in German and English for the EUF bachelor’s degree programs in management, and its master’s degree programs in management, European Studies, and Transformation Studies. It thus serves as a “bridge professorship” between the International Institute for Management and Economic Education and the Norbert Elias Center for Transformation Design & Research. Proof of teaching experience in the fields of plural economics or political economy is desirable.

Prerequisites are a university degree in economics or social science and outstanding (qualifizierte) relevant doctorate. Other outstanding, preferably internationally visible publications are also desirable.

The selected candidate is expected to actively further the development of the relevant degree programs at Europa-Universität Flensburg and to cooperatively engage in interdisciplinary research and teaching, especially in connection with the university’s research centers for transformation and European studies. She or he is also expected to participate in the university’s self-governing bodies and to help further develop the research profiles of the International Institute for Management and Economic Education and the Norbert Elias Center for Transformation Design & Research. Also desirable are experience in third-party fundraising and international research cooperation, and proven competence in university teaching.

This professorship is funded by the Tenure Track Programme of the German Federal Government and the Federal States. This job announcement is aimed at early-career researchers. Please note the recruitment requirements set forth in § 64 of the Higher Education Act of the State of Schleswig-Holstein. As a mandatory prerequisite for appointment, the selected candidate must have at least two years of academic or research experience outside of Europa-Universität Flensburg, or else hold a doctoral degree from another university. If this tenure-track professorship is positively evaluated, its tenure-track status will be binding and not subject to the availability of reserved positions. In accordance with the applicable teaching obligation regulations, teaching duties are 4 LVS (course hours) during the first phase of the junior professorship and, following successful evaluation during second phase, 6 LVS. Further information on regulations and funding opportunities for tenure-track professorships at EUF can be found at: https://www.uni-flensburg.de/go/tenure-track-professuren
Europa-Universität Flensburg has a balanced gender ratio (m/f) with respect to its employee status group for university lecturers, and would like to further promote the diversity of biographies and competences in its employment relationships. Applications from persons with a migration background are explicitly welcomed. Severely disabled applicants with adequate qualifications will be given preference.

For further details, please contact Prof. Dr. Ulrich Glassmann (ulrich.glassmann@uni-flensburg.de). Applications, together with the usual documents (certificates, references, and a description of the candidate’s research and teaching experience) must be received by EUF no later than 16.04.2020 and should be sent to the President of Europa-Universität Flensburg, Prof. Dr. Werner Reinhart, -Private and confidential-, Reference Number 022023, Auf dem Campus 1, 24943, Flensburg.

Applications sent via email must be submitted in PDF form (maximum two files per applicant) to bewerbung@uni-flensburg.de. Kindly note that paper applications, and those sent on a standard storage device (CD-ROM or USB stick), will not be returned to the applicant after the hiring process. EUF expressly renounces the use of CV photographs and kindly asks applicants to refrain from providing one.
