

Identifier	302557
of positions	1
Scope	75 % (29,025 h)
Salary	EG 13 TV-L
Starting date	01.04.2026
Application deadline	13.01.2026

In general full-time positions are divisible.

The Collaborative Research Centre (CRC) 1750 [in:just] 'Inclusion - Recognition - Justice. Participation and Involvement in Processes of Growing Up' will take an interdisciplinary approach to examine the conditions for educational equity in institutions of growing up in Germany. It is based at Goethe-Universität Frankfurt. Project A02 - Reactive attitudes and Emotions of Injustice - is based at the department of Philosophy at the Europa-Universität Flensburg. Project A02 is seeking to appoint (subject to funding approval) a

Doctoral Researcher (m/f/d)

Professional contact

Prof. Dr. Anne Reichold
reichold@uni-flensburg.de

Administrative contact

Violetta Kowtun
bewerbung@uni-flensburg.de from April 1, 2026 for the duration of the project, which is expected to last until December 31, 2029.

The philosophical project A02 provides a systematic conceptual and normative analysis of reactive attitudes and emotions of injustice in educational contexts. Based on philosophical theories of emotion A02 provides an analytical framework to analyze emotions of injustice, misrecognition and exclusion in educational contexts.

The position aims to promote a dissertation-project during part of the working hours.

Duties

- Systematic and organizational work on the abovementioned research project
- Philosophical research within the framework of doctoral thesis in philosophy (PhD)
- Interdisciplinary collaboration with theoretical and empirical projects of CRC in cooperation and consultation with the project management
- Contributing to the project's research activities
- Participating in the CRC's Integrated Research Training Group and in regular project meetings
- Participating in the events and activities of the CRC in Frankfurt and the department of Philosophy at the Europa-Universität Flensburg

We offer

- An appreciative and collegial working environment
- Secure salary based on collective agreement
- Flexible working hours, including mobile work option
- Company pension plan
- Options to balance work/family life
- Professional training opportunities
- Free language courses at EUF
- Reduced rates at the university sports center
- Reduced fares for local public transport (Job Ticket)

Your profile

- A university degree (Master's or equivalent) in Philosophy, with a minimum grade of "good"
- Expertise in Philosophy of Emotions, Philosophy of Education and/or Social Philosophy
- Very good English language skills
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team
- Interest in interdisciplinary work, particularly with educational sciences

More information on this project and the Collaborative Research Center can be found at https://www.uni-frankfurt.de/181192958/SFB_1750

Please submit your application in electronic form, quoting the reference number and including the following documents (in a single PDF document, max. 5 MB): A motivation letter for the advertised position (max. 1,5 pages), CV, an exposé for a dissertation-project in the context of the project (max. 3 pages), max. 20 pages of a written document (e.g. MA-thesis, article), certificates of university degrees.

Europa-Universität Flensburg seeks to promote employee diversity with respect to the trajectories and competencies of its staff. We explicitly welcome applications from persons with a migration background. People with disabilities (Schwerbehinderung) with adequate qualifications will be given preference. The university also strives to obtain a balanced gender ratio in all occupational groups.

EUF expressly renounces the use of CV photographs and kindly asks applicants to refrain from providing one.

We look forward to receiving your application via our online application portal:

<https://jobs.uni-flensburg.de/jobposting/2a619b1e1712cde9e400897778b50d53fa7df4140>