

There is strong evidence that the financial and economic crisis that struck Europe in 2008, and was amplified through the fiscal, financial and monetary crisis of 2010 ('Euro-Crisis') and the political crisis that emerged after the Greek election January 2015, is not only an effect, or a side-effect, of globalization and global crisis. To the contrary, our basic assertion is that the crisis reached existential proportions for the European Union because of the structure of the European economic and political system. The crisis made obvious that the current institutional composition of the European Union excludes substantial alternatives to an intergovernmental and technocratic mode of politics, which appear to tie the EU to a particular evolutionary path. Apparently, the intergovernmental and technocratic mode of politics comes to its limits now, the road back to national politics is closed, and no transnational democratic alternative in sight that has the power (and money) to cope with a transnational and global economy that is ever more beyond political (and democratic) control.

This interdisciplinary conference will address two key issues related to this problematic. The first is to clarify what the crisis has done to the European Union, not only as a legal and economic community but also as a harbinger of democracy. From its very inception, the European Union has gradually evolved into a political, social and even cultural community of states, nations and European citizens. The present crisis affects all these dimensions. In order to understand the nature and effects of the crisis we need to draw on the combined expertise of social, political, economic and legal disciplines. The second aim of the conference is to bring these different disciplinary perspectives together in order to establish whether there are ways of remedying the negative effects of the crisis.

The conference, in its talks, lectures and seven panels, will focus on the question of a European crisis-induced metamorphosis and the democratic prospects that might ensue. We hope we can count with your presence to enrich the debates which will follow the planned interventions.

Program of the conference:

<https://www.uni-flensburg.de/soziologie/dfg-euroconference-2016/program/>

Venue:

Europa-Universität Flensburg
Erweiterungsbau, Room: EB 160, 161, 162
Auf dem Campus 1a
24943 Flensburg

Organization:

Prof. Dr. Monika Eigmüller
monika.eigmuller@uni-flensburg.de

Prof. Dr. Hauke Brunkhorst brunkhorst@uni-flensburg.de

Prof. Dr. John Erik Fossum
j.e.fossum@arena.uio.no

Registration until 08. May 2016 via:

<http://www.uni-flensburg.de/soziologie/dfg-euroconference-2016/registration/>

Beyond the Crisis? - European Transformations

International Conference,
Europa-Universität Flensburg
May 19-21, 2016

Funded by:

In cooperation with:

ARENA - Center for European Studies, Oslo
Deutsche Gesellschaft für Soziologie - Europasozologie

Day 1 - 19.05.2016

12:00 - Opening of the Conference (EB 160)
Monika Eigmüller (Vice-President of the EUF)

12:15 - Opening Talk (EB 160)
Chair: Regina Kreide (Justus-Liebig-U. Gießen)
Postcolonial Europe in crisis: Gurminder K. Bhambra (Warwick University/Princeton)
Comments: René Gabriels (Maastricht University)

Coffee Break (EB 161)

14:00- 16:30 (EB 160)
Panel I: How to cope with the blackmailing power of the economy?
Chair: Michaela Christ (EUF)
Input: Ulrike Herrmann (taz Berlin), Claus Offe (Hertie-School of Governance, Berlin), Poul Kjaer (Kopenhagen Business School), Katja Kipping (Die Linke)
Comments: Gerd Grözinger (EUF)

Coffee Break (EB 161)

17:00-19:30 (EB 160)
Panel II: "Greek" crisis, "refugee" crisis, crisis in permanence, and transformations of the public sphere
Chair: Charlotte Gaitanides (EUF)
Input: Sonja Buckel (Universität Kassel), Andreas Kalyvas (New School for Social Research, N.Y.); Ulrich K. Preuss (Hertie- School of Governance, Berlin), Hans-Jörg Trenz (Copenhagen University/ARENA Oslo), Signe Larsen (LSE)
Comments: Nikola Tietze (WiKu, Hamburg)

20:00: Dinner in the city of Flensburg

Day 2 - 20.05.2016

9:30-12:00 (EB 162)
Panel III: Integration through conflict
Chair: Klarissa Lueg (EUF)
Input: Stefan Oeter (Universität Hamburg), Stefan Kadelbach (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt), Anne Reichold (EUF)
Comments: Kolja Möller (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt) and Panel IV: Models of transnational constitutions (EB 160)
Chair: Dragica Vujadinovic (Union University Belgrade)
Input: Marcelo Neves (Brasilia University), John Erik Fossum (ARENA, Oslo)
Comments: Rainer Schmalz-Bruns (Universität Hannover)

12:00-13:00 Lunch in the Mensa of the EUF

13:00-15:30 (EB 160)
Panel V: Institutional transformations
Chair: Monika Eigmüller (EUF)
Input: Jelena von Achenbach (Justus-Liebig-Universität Gießen), Augustin Menéndez (Leon University/ARENA), Karl-Heinz Ladeur (Universität Hamburg)
Comments: Anuscheh Farahat (MPI, Heidelberg)

Coffee Break (EB 161)

16:00-17:30 (EB 160)
Panel VI: A democratic Constitutional Revolution?
Chair: Bernd Sommer (EUF)
Input: Anna Katharina Mangold (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt), Jonathan White (LSE)
Comments: Peter Niesen (Universität Hamburg)

Coffee Break (EB 161)

18:00 Evening Lecture (EB 160)
Chair: Paul Marx (Syddansk Universitet)
Democracy in Europe: Structural Constraints - and Options?: Fritz Scharpf (MPI, Cologne)
Comments: Isabelle Ley (MPI, Heidelberg)

20:00: Dinner in the city of Flensburg

Day 3 - 21.05.2016

09:30-12:00 (EB 160)
Panel VII: Democracy and Capitalism
Chair: Thore Prien (EUF)
Input: Michael Wilkinson (LSE), Regina Kreide (Justus-Liebig-Universität Gießen), Stephan Panther (EUF), Hauke Brunkorst (EUF)
Comments: Florian Rödl (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt)

12:00 End of the Conference

