

2. ZeBUSS WINTER SCHOOL 15. – 17. Januar 2020

Wissenschaftliches Arbeiten

Writing into Meaning - Creative Ways To Stimulate Your Academic Writing

Referentin: Dr. Rebecca Webb

Workshopsprache: Englisch

This writing workshop presumes that academic writing is an inherently creative process that involves making decisions about words and structures that convey how we see the world. In this writing workshop we will be exploring ideas of writing as ‘a method of inquiry’ to stimulate the shaping and re-shaping of what and how we wish to be read. The workshop will involve opportunities for reflection, writing, dialogue and discussion including on the challenges, blockages and excitements of academic writing. We will all write in the workshop. This will involve some sessions of ‘free writing’ and some other writing exercises. There will be a range of creative prompts throughout the session to enhance our enjoyment, engagement and ways of communicating.

I look forward to working with you.

Dr Rebecca Webb, co-director Centre for Innovation and Research in Childhood and Youth
(CIRCY)

Department of Education,

University of Sussex

We have recently updated our blogs, please have a look:

<https://writingintomeaning.wordpress.com/>