

Mehr StudienQualität durch Synergie : A project jointly run by the University of Applied Science in Kiel and the University of Applied Science in Flensburg and Europa-Universität Flensburg

ReflActive Teaching

Continuing Professional Development Program on Flensburg's Campus and the Certificate
"ReflActive Teaching: Conscious Actions in Teaching"

The Workshops

Tasks and Objectives:

Development of the course in subject and interdisciplinary

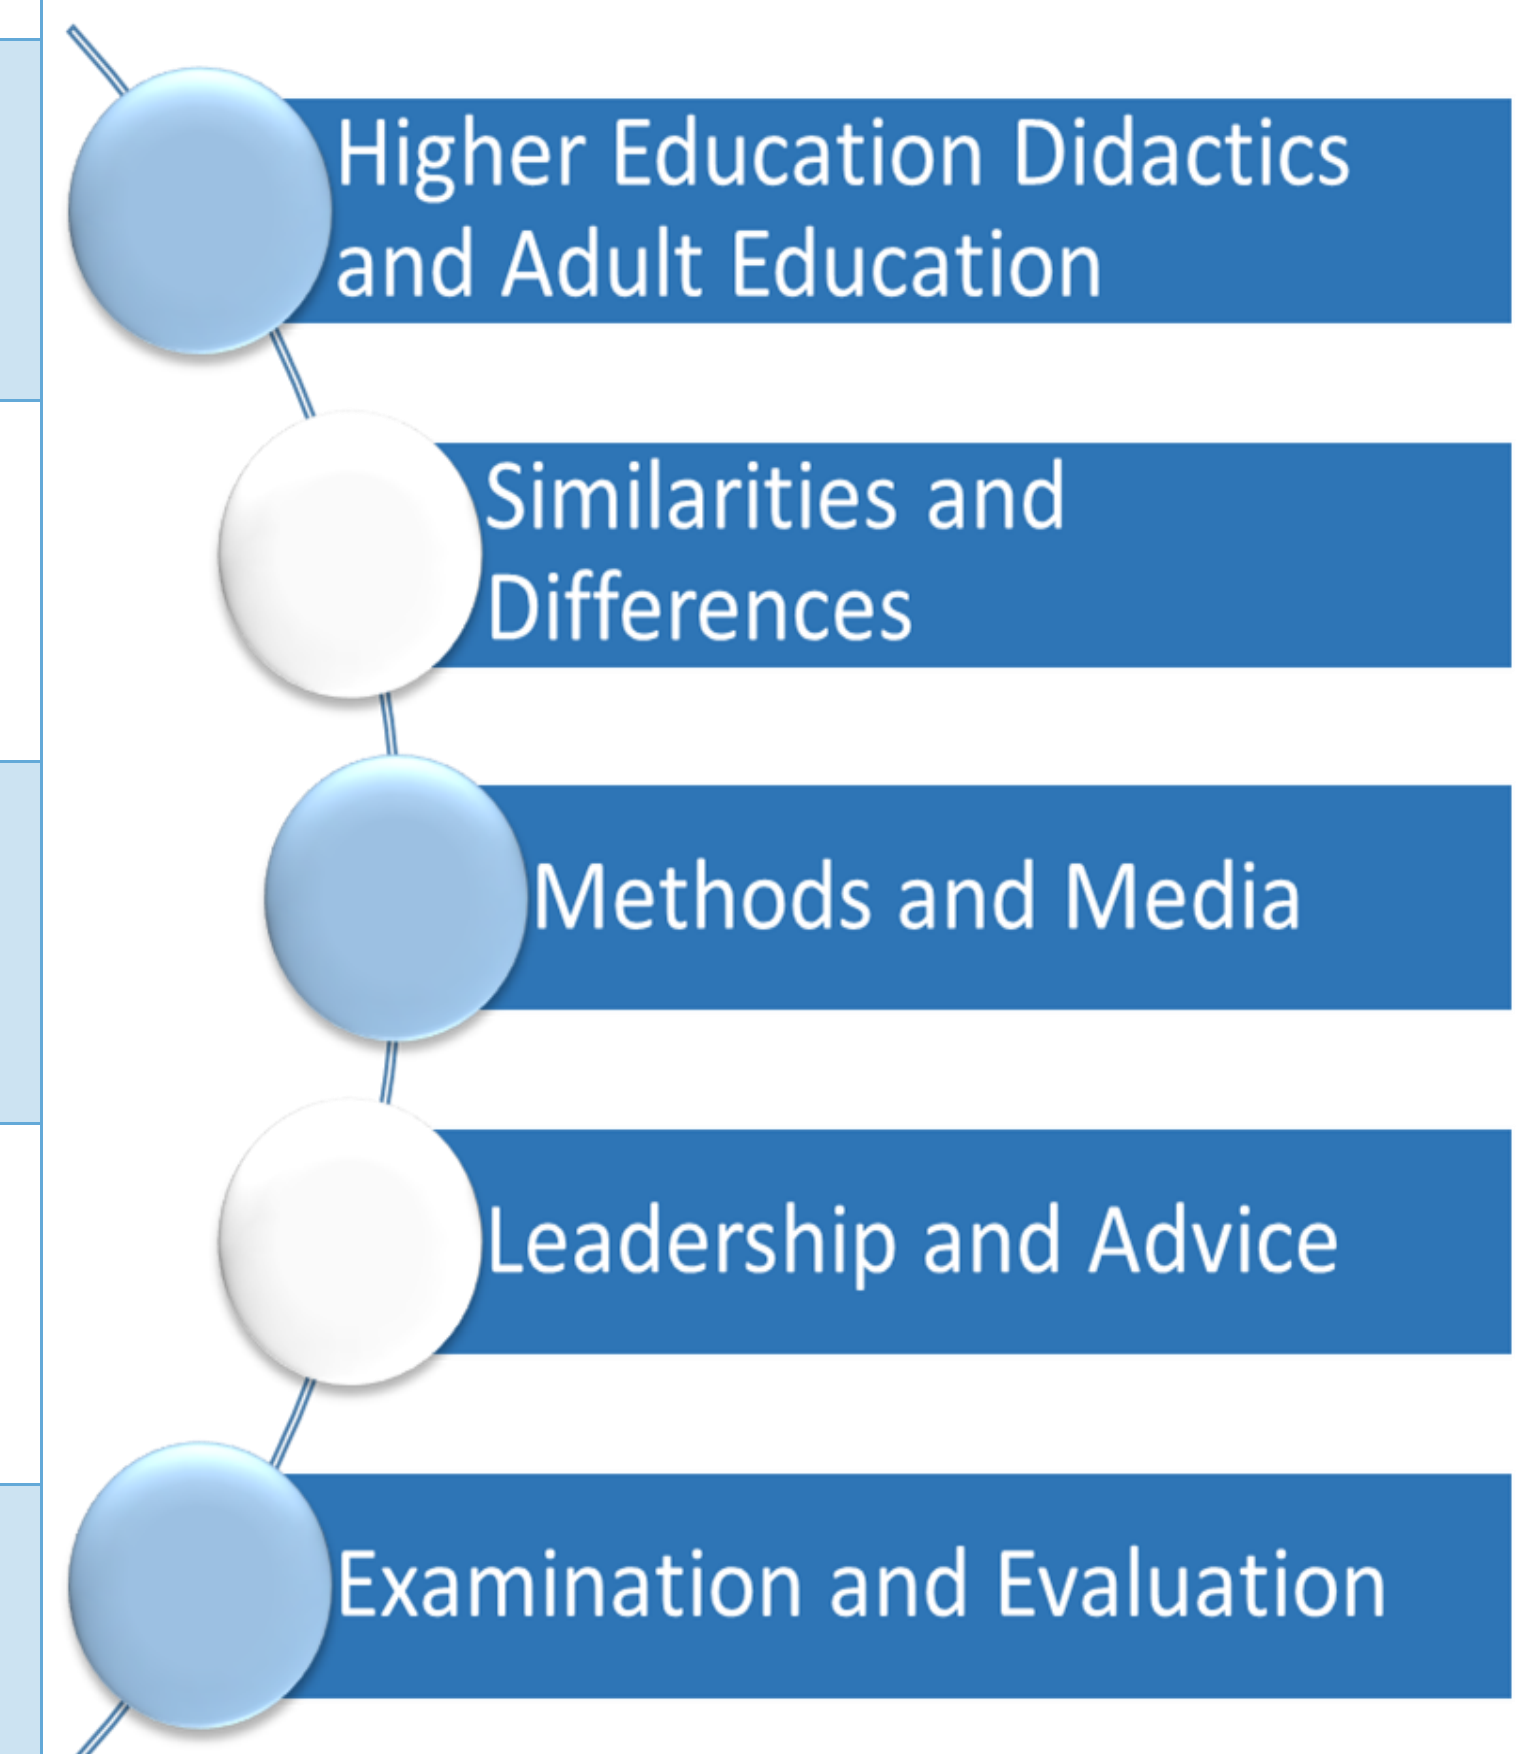

Self- and role-reflection of the individual lecturer's professionalisation; dealing with the potentials and the challenges of a heterogenous student population

Possibilities of how to develop university teaching so that it promotes learning

Targeted advice for students in their learning process; guiding learning situations

Learning goal-orientated, transparent and fair examinations; different forms of teaching evaluations to improve the quality of the learning process

Themes

The Certificate

The certificate for university didactics has two main ideas.

Regarding the content, it is also for those who already teach at university so they can further develop their teaching skills.

Additionally, the certificate is useful for further developing your curriculum vitae with a structured qualification in university didactics (180 work units (WU) in three modules).

The programme's core is about the reflection and development of the teachers' teaching characteristics.

The reflection and development process is accompanied by colle-gial consultations with participants and university didacticians accompanied by colloquiums and structured workshops.
